Summer 2014

Dear Daughters

I cannot believe that this year is more than half way over already. There is truth in the old saying my mother used, "The faster I go, the behinder I get." I came home from an especially trying day and decided that baking bread would be a good relaxing diversion. I got the bread mixed up and sat down to rest while it was raising. It worked. I relaxed. Two hours later I woke up to find the bread dough was on its way out the door. I quickly gathered it up and shaped it into the loaves and set it to raise again while I sat down to read. Another two hours and I woke up again. Now I had to round it up again, reshape it into loaves and this time sit close by while it raised and then I put it in the oven to bake. At eleven-thirty p.m. I had my bread baked in time to go to bed. But I wasn't stressing over my hard day at the museum any more. I don't advise this remedy at the end of a hard day.

We had a wonderful leadership seminar in June, with an outstanding attendance. We welcomed our new Regional Representatives from a wide spectrum of our DUP world. From San Joaquin Valley, California Daphne Kessinger; New Mexico, Tammi Voyles; the East Coast states, Alice Pottmyer; and representing Alberta Canada, Ramona Easthope.

We had a busy holiday here at the museum with our open house on the 24th of July. Speaking of the Pioneer Days celebration, let me share a little story with you. In May I received an email with "Greetings from Paraguay". I did not know anybody in Paraguay. I do now. This sweet lady, Natalie Slater, has been a member of the LDS Church for twenty-two years. She and her father have been working on their family history. Natalie and her parents were born in Rhodesia, Africa, but her grandparents are English. To their surprise, they discovered that one of their great-great-grandparents was a Mormon pioneer. They had thought that they were the first of their family to join the church. At first they thought it must be a mistake. Could it be possible that so many years ago, members of their family were pioneers on the Mormon trek? She asked me if we had any history or information about her ancestors, Richard Slater married to Ann Corbridge, and if we would send the information to her.

Of course I was so excited to be able to share her family history with her. Sending it by email, it was there promptly. She responded that Richard Slater, who helped settle Slaterville, Utah, was her first cousin, six times removed. (She doesn't qualify for DUP!). Natalie and her father have been organizing an activity for the stakes in Paraguay to celebrate Pioneer Day. This has meant so much more to them knowing that they are celebrating their own pioneer ancestors. A skillful carpenter helped them make a handcart for this event, finding the plans in an old Ensign magazine. This will be the first Pioneer Day celebration in Paraguay. I'm anxious to hear all about it and that we were even a very small part of their celebration.

I promised to keep you up-to-date concerning our negotiations with Family Search. We had an open meeting where everyone interested could come with questions or comments about the project to receive information from the specialists we have had advising us (our lawyer, financial advisor, computer expert and Family Search representatives). It was very informative. The International Board Members have met and recommend that we pursue the project. We have sent a letter to company presidents with the information. We asked them to respond with an affirmative or negative vote for the program. The next step is to have a contract drawn up with the details and get started. I am excited to see this happen.

Remember, we will have our International Convention on October 11 at the Davis Conference Center. The preconvention entertainment will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the general meeting at 10:00. Book sales begin at 8:00. The new volume of Museum Memories will be available. Our guest speaker will be Glenn Rawson of "The Joseph Smith Papers" and the "History of the Saints" TV shows. This will be a "don't miss" event. I look forward to seeing you there.

Best wishes for another good year, Maurine

ISDUP CONVENTION OCTOBER 11, 2014 DAVIS CONVENTION CENTER

Glenn Rawson

Glenn Rawson is the keynote speaker for our October Convention. He is an outstanding television personality many of you across the Wasatch Front will recognize.

"History of the Saints" is a new documentary television series that began in October, 2010. When production of the "Joseph Smith Papers" project ended, host and writer/producer Glenn Rawson and videographer

Dennis Lyman, felt that there was still much history to share. They decided to continue the project on their own.

Now the independent "History of the Saints" team tells the stories of the Mormon Pioneers, beginning with the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph Smith and his brother Hyrum, and following the progression of the early Latterday Saints as they made their way west to the Salt Lake Valley. The team hopes to tell the stories behind the stories. These gems of insight that they unearth in their journeys across the country will highlight events that don't make it into the show itself.

ATTENTION MUSICAL DAUGHTERS

We have only two copies of the 1932 edition of our Pioneer Song Book. One is in our archives, and one is in our library.

Should you find you possess and choose to donate to us your copy of this FIRST edition, we would exchange your donated copy for a copy of the current edition of Pioneer Songs. Let ISDUP know if you are interested in making this trade.

WYOMING REGIONAL REPRESENTATIVE APPOINTED

Sue Gibson was born in Salt Lake City, Utah. She graduated from Highland High in Salt Lake City, then attended LDS Business College where she met her husband George Gibson. They were married in the Salt Lake Temple. They lived in Salt Lake for nine years then moved to Riverton, Wyoming. They are the parents of seven married children and the grandparents to twenty-seven.

She is a charter member of two camps: Emigration Canyon in Salt Lake, which has now been disbanded and the Rock Creek Hollow Camp in Riverton, Wyoming.

She has held positions as Camp Secretary and Treasurer, and as company Secretary, Treasurer and President.

ROYALTY PROGRAM IN IDAHO GETS YOUNG WOMEN INTERESTED IN DUP

The Pioneer Young Women of Today program was created by Ginnu MacBeth who had a daughter who attended the Days of '47 Royalty Pageant and wondered why Idaho didn't have a royalty program. About nine years ago, Kathleen Parrish was company president and decided to start a pageant as an outreach project. This year, two queens were selected and each received $350, a bouquet of roses and a statuette of a young woman with a plaque attached. The company also pays their membership for one year in ISDUP.

NEW DUP DISPLAY AT GALE CENTER

A large crowd attended and welcomed ISDUP President Maurine P. Smith as she visited to speak and perform ribbon cutting ceremonies for the new display at the Gale Center for Culture and Education in South Jordan, Utah. The DUP permanent display titled, "Pioneers and Their Daughters" features artifacts, talents and crafts of the Pioneer Woman of yesteryear and their daughters who carry on today. The South Jordan Camp was founded in 1965 and has been divided several times over the years making up five camps in the same area today.

BRIGHAM'S BIRTHDAY BASH

The Tooele Valley Company held their Brigham's Birthday Jubilee at their museum and park in Grantsville, Utah. The Hilda A. Erickson Camp brought a huge birthday cake with Happy Birthday Brigham circling a large beehive for all to enjoy. The Company furnished Brigham's Brew (homemade root beer) and a lovely program, thanks to Michelle Brinkerhoff. Ron Johnson, a "Pioneer from the Past" shared stories and songs.

Our new Company Quilt was displayed. Each of our Camps participated in the guilt project. The guilt blocks were designed by a member of their camp. They were then brought together and quilt chair, May Ann Ure (Rose Spring Camp) assembled the quilt and designed additional blocks as needed. Colleen Garrard (Lakepoint Camp) volunteered the beautiful quilting.

ARE YOU PRESERVING PIONEER ARTIFACTS?

Elaine Andrew McGary, President of Bonneville Company in Idaho Falls, Idaho certainly is. She has a butter churn that belonged to her family that meant a great deal to her.

As a teenager, she milked four cows morning and night and her mother skimmed the cream off the top of the cooled milk, put it in a wooden churn and made it into butter. That churn became very important to her and she recently wanted to find it again. When her Aunt Elaine said that she had it but it had dried out so much that it was completely apart, she decided to repair it.

At a recent DUP board meeting, she was showing her churn puzzle of many pieces when one of the Daughters said that her husband could put it back together.

Restored, it is a precious, over 100 years old artifact, and treasure from her childhood. Elaine believes that our own lives are like an old butter churn. We can become broken and crumbled but, if we have help from our friends in DUP, we can survive the turmoil of every day life.

FORT HERRIMAN DAYS PARADE

MUELLER PARK CAMP HONORS CHARTER MEMBERS

Three charter members were honored by the Mueller Park Camp, Davis Heritage Company, that was organized April 21, 1971, 43 years ago. Still active in the Camp today, they were presented with the DUP "Woman of Faith and Fortitude Award" pin in recognition of outstanding pioneer spirit and for emulating in their personal lives the faith and fortitude of the early pioneer women. During their many years of activity in DUP, they have each furthered the objectives of the organization by serving in leadership positions, sharing their interest in DUP with others, preparing and giving numerous pioneer histories, and serving as modern-day pioneers in many aspects of their lives.

WILLIAM HYDE CAMP CELEBRATES 100 YEARS

One hundred years ago, a group of women met at the Rock Meeting House on Center and Main Street for the first meeting of the William Hyde Camp, in Cache Far North Company. The name William Hyde Camp was chosen in honor of William Hyde, one of the first settlers and the first bishop of the Mormon Church of Hyde Park. The camp officers were: Phebe Hyde, President; Sarah Follett, 1st Counselor; Jane E. Lamb, 2nd Counselor; and Hattie Lee, Secretary.

Life sketches of the first officers of the Camp were dramatized by current daughters. Artifacts were displayed and games played. Margaret Elwood greeted the attendees and the day was a celebration of a camp that has remained active for over 100 years.

MUSEUM DIRECTORY AVAILABLE

A wonderful booklet listing all the Satellite Museums has just been published. It is available at the ISDUP office for $5.00 plus $2.00 S&H. The booklet contains colored photos and brief histories of 128 museums which includes buildings, cabins or collections owned by DUP which is displayed in a single entity or is in partnership with a city, county, historical society or other. Be sure to carry this book as you travel and visit each site you are near.

DUP DAUGHTERS "JUMP ON BOARD"

The Bannock North Company of Daughters of Utah Pioneers presented the program "Coming to America" at their annual Jubilee celebrating the founding of the DUP organization.

There were several displays of model ships made by Marjean Geisler's husband on a table nearby. A replica of a big ship was constructed on stage and participants were seated in the ship and recited stories of ancestors who sailed to the U.S. in the mid to late 1800s as part of a migration of saints from many foreign lands.

The program honored women who had been in DUP for 50 and 60 years with a certificate and pin. Joyce Flaherty 60 years, who along with her mother started DUP in Tyhee, Idaho. Alice Dunn 60 years, June Shappart 50 years, Joyce Lasser 50 years and Lilyce Walker Cox 50 years.

LOG CABIN RESTORED IN FAR WEST, UTAH

Daughter's of Utah Pioneers Honey Bee Camp, Box Elder North Company in Honeyville, Utah held their last meeting in May at one of the first log homes built in Farr West, Utah. As Randy Chambers told the story of finding and restoring the log home all the daughters had tears in their eyes.

While preparing to tear down an old house in Farr West, he discovered that, within the home, was a pioneer log cabin. It was located at 2375 North 2000 West and had three walls intact when it was discovered. It was approximately 135 years old. It was discovered that the first settler in Farr West was Joseph Taylor who arrived in 1858 and was among the earliest settlers to obtain a land grant in 1870. He did occupy the land where the cabin was found.

Our deepest appreciation is extended to Mr. Chambers for his historical appreciation of the cabin and his hard work in restoring it.

JUBILEE FOR WASHINGTON EAST COMPANY

The Mulberry Camp of the Washington East Company hosted the annual Jubilee for the 2013-2014 year of Daughters of Utah Pioneers. They had over 150 members and quests come to the event.

The celebration began with a luncheon in the historic school which now houses the Washington City Pioneer Museum. Following the luncheon, they had Dixie Miller, a member of the Mulberry Camp, show her beautiful vintage dress collection with dresses dated from around 1850 to 1900. She had some members model the dresses as well as having others displayed on dress forms.

At the conclusion of her presentation they divided in groups and went around to see additional pioneer sites in Washington. They had a flatbed trailer that could accommodate approximately 20 members as they were escorted up to the Covington House which has recently been renovated for a place where people are invited to come to learn more about this family who were original settlers in this area.

They also toured the Washington City Pioneer Museum and marveled over so many artifacts of the past. The oldest Utah Relief Society Building still standing was also toured. This building is where Mulberry Camp holds their monthly meetings.

Daughters attending the Washington East Company Jubilee were treated to a display for Pioneer clothing.

PLAIN CITY CAMP CELEBRATES 100 YEARS

HISTORIC MEETING PLACE FOR THE GREEN VALLEY CAMP

The Green Valley Camp, St. George, Utah, held their final meeting of the year at the Pioneer Relief Society Hall in Washington, Utah. Hosted by Priscilla Cahoon, a member of the Mulberry DUP Camp, members were shown pictures and heard of the restoration of this building to bring it to its lovely condition. They enjoyed seeing the antique pieces on display inside and enjoyed a sack lunch on the patio after the meeting.

The building was built in 1875 as the Relief Society Hall but over the years was also used in many ways in the community. It was the community post office, funeral parlor, mercantile, and ceramics shop. Because it was owned by different enterprises, the original walls were covered over or changed. When the Washington Historical Society bought the property it was almost in ruins.

The restoration began with the floors and then the walls and the roof. As the layers of wood and plaster were removed, the sign shown over the door was rediscovered when men working on the attic could see something! Now it appears as it was used originally, with beautiful outside gardens, a patio and arbor complete with a pond. The building is used by the Mulberry Camp for their DUP meetings and can be rented for parties and receptions.

MUELLER PARK CAMP VISITS HISTORIC WHITAKER MUSEUM

The Thomas Whitaker Home Museum has historic significance since it was the home of one of Centerville's first settlers. Built in 1862 by Thomas Whitaker, a carpenter and Scottish stonemason, the museum was recently renovated and now more accurately reflects the time period in which it was built.

The Whitaker Museum

Members of the Mueller Park Camp enjoyed learning more about the way of life and artifacts from this early pioneer era including the weaving of wool and silk. It is believed that the Whitakers were one of the first families in Utah to raise silk worms. The Museum, now on the National Registry of Historical Places, is open for tours every Tuesday or by appointment at 168 North Main Street in Centerville.

DO YOU KNOW WHERE TOOUERVILLE, UTAH IS?

In June of 1854, a group of eight men lead by Rufus C. Allen traveled from New Harmony, Utah to a location north of St. George and thirty miles south of Cedar City, Utah to start a settlement near the Paiute Tribe of Indians. Brigham Young wanted them to contact Chief Toquer and offer to teach them cultivate the soil and improve their living conditions.

This was the beginning of the City of Toquerville. It was named after Chief Toquer and soon was a prosperous community of 88 people. Its proximity to Zion National Park makes it a tourist site as well as a beautiful agricultural area.

Toquerville Marker

On December 13, 1941, a marker made of lava, millstone, creek stone, petrified wood and sandstone was erected by the Sarah Willis Camp members of DUP. Attached was a metal marker telling the story of Toquerville.

Recently, members of the Anasazi Camp from Ivins, Utah found that the marker needed repairs. Giving a much needed hand were some of the husbands. The marker has been placed near the city hall in a lovely park that also displays pioneer items of interest.

On your next trip to southern Utah or the National Parks, be sure and stop in Toquerville and enjoy the wonderful pioneer park and marker.

ENGLISH FORT MARKER #82 REDEDICATION

The Daughters of English Fort and Camp Bennion numbered over 50 as they braved a storm to celebrate the new plaque on the monument "English Fort." This project involved Taylorsville City Cemetery Director, Lee Bennion, an Eagle Scout who cleaned the monument and secured the plague and ISDUP members. The correct sized plaque was ordered, manufactured and installed to cover damages done by thieves of the original bronze plaque. The history of English Fort was presented. Katherine Brimhall, ISDUP Marker Chair gave remarks followed by the dedicatory prayer. Floral pieces were provided by Lee Bennion.

Membership pins were awarded: the longest membership dating back to 1926. Blanchard presented gifts of handmade table

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS COUPLE?

The below photo was among a drawer full of photos with no information. I have asked several family members if they recognize who they may be and have had no progress in identifying the couple. I am hoping if it is in the Legacy I may receive some help with the mystery. My name is Shirley Ann Bitton, email annbitton@msn.com or phone (801) 731-7617. Thank you for your help.

CAN ANYONE VERIFY THIS?

I thought your unidentified picture in the recent Legacy looked very much like the lady on the left, posted on my family history blog. Susan May Walton married 1894 Logan Temple, from Auburn (Star Valley) Wyoming. Email bsanborn@comcast.net if you can help with the identity.

EMMA BATCHELOR LEE FRENCH

Most daughters interested in western and women's history will know the name of Emma Lee, seventeenth wife of John D. Lee. What they probably don't know is that she was a respected and competent midwife in Winslow, Arizona. She also lived in Snowflake, Arizona where there is a DUP camp.

Emma Batchelor was born in Uckfield Sussex County, England, April 21, 1836. When the Mormon missionaries arrived in England, Emma joined the church and was assisted by the immigration fund to come to America. Chartered ships carried her across the ocean and the railroad took her to the Mississippi River. From there, she walked to Zion pulling her belongings in a handcart with the Martin Company pioneers.

Emma Batchelor Lee French

After arriving in Salt Lake City,

she met and married John D. Lee. For the rest of the story of Emma and John, you can read the interesting book "Emma Lee" by Juanita Brooks.

After John Lee was hanged for his questionable involvement in the Mountain Meadow Massacre, Emma married Franklin French who was a prospector near Lonely Dell where Emma had homesteaded.

The family arrived in Winslow, Arizona May 10, 1887 and Emma was soon known as "Doctor French." The family home was called "The Baby Farm" as it was fitted out with a special bedroom where babies were delivered and cared for. Many stories have been told of her curing the sick when all hope had Emma died November 16, 1897. Her funeral was the largest that had been held in Winslow and the trains passed through without bells or brakes in her honor. She was acclaimed for her amazing healing powers and the fact that, of the hundreds of babies she delivered, she never lost a mother.

MIDWIFE RUTH PIEDE CALL DAVIDS

Ruth Piede Call was a Native American but raised as a white child by Anson and Mary Call. Anson purchased her when she was about two years old when he was colonizing Fillmore, Utah.

Ruth married James Henry Davids on Christmas Day 1864 and they lived in many places in Utah before moving to the town of Chesterfield, Idaho. They had ten children.

"Aunt Ruth," as she was known to the community, had great healing Ruth Piede Call Davids powers. It was said that she could brush her hand across a persons brow and the pain would go away. Her combination of yarrow, barley and secret ingredients carefully boiled and stored in the cellar was well-known for its healing power.

Ruth died of pneumonia in 1919. Many people had been born with Aunt Ruth assisting. The James and Ruth Davids cabin was restored and dedicated in Chesterfield a year ago. It is open for tours in the summer.

DUP International Board Members recognize the influence for good and unselfish service of each of these daughters and express condolences to their loved ones.

Outreach Programs

UNIQUE OUTREACH PROGRAM BY WEBER NORTH MEMBERS

Weber North Company from Ogden, Utah participated in a unique outreach program. It was presented to the special needs mutual. "Special Needs" are teens to 60 years of age who are mentally or physically challenged, not married and live at home or in a group home.

The Daughters were amazed at attendees whom had never responded to prior activities but who became very engaged in pioneer bingo, playing with button on a string, spinning tops and learning about quilts. Those in wheelchairs got out of their chairs and participated on the floor with the others. There were 66 guests in attendance. They seemed to enjoy everything and at times yelled with delight at the activities.

Both daughters and guests walked away uplifted and enriched by the sweet spirit at the event.

STUDENT FIELD TRIP GREAT SUCCESS

Non-Profit Organization U.S. POSTAGE PAID Salt Lake City, Utah Permit #1688

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers presented educational field trips for the fourth grades of the Red Cliffs, Nebo View, and Mona Elementary schools. The Nephi students met at the Nephi Museum and Mona students met at the Pioneer Cabin where they experienced activities and games that helped them understand daily life of their ancestors. They sang pioneer songs under the direction of Laurel Roth and Kathy Pearmain, heard the story of Gayle Ludlow's Nephi ancestor and they made and ate ice cream with Lucinda Kay. They also made hanky babies and wiggly gigs with Kristalyn Hopkinson and Shawna Weaver; played marbles with Mt. Nebo DUP royalty Ailli and Kestlie Randall, tied rope knots with Paul Dean and toured the Museum and the Mona Pioneer Cabin with Peggy Wankier and Pam Randall.

Fourth grade students enjoy pioneer games
